

My memories of Alves

Here are my most memorable moments at Alves primary.

My first was the animation day. One Friday we received a letter telling us all about an animation competition that other schools were taking part in. We all decided to take part and got to work choosing a poem and making story boards . We chose the poem "Life's Little Ups and Doons". There were lots of characters to make so we split into groups. I made the janitor character which like most of the characters were really hard to make. All our hard work paid off though, because we were lucky enough to win best animation and best comedy.

My second favourite thing was just coming here in general.

When I arrived, everyone in this school and I mean everyone was so friendly to me and I had made loads of friends in just a couple of hours. I loved my first day here and still love this school. One of my favourite things is coming through the school gates and seeing all my friends.

I have had so many great opportunities in this school like getting my picture in the paper and learning how to film and make movies. Before I came to this school I would have never talked in front of the class but now I don't even worry about it (... well just sometimes!).

I would like to thank everyone in this school for making the last two years as good as they were. I really am going to miss you all and would love to stay for a few more years.
